The resolution announcing the intention of the board of city trustees to call a special election at which bond issues will be submitted to the voters of Glendale was presented at the meeting of the board last Thursday night by Trustee Bartlett, after being prepared by Hartley Shaw, city attorney, and was unanimously passed.

Among other things, the resolution provides the following:

LEGION OFFICERS

GLENDALE POST LAST NIGHT NAMES EMIL O. KIEFER FOR COMMANDER

A very interesting meeting of the American Legion Post No. 127 took place last evening at its new headquarters in Hurtt's Hall on East Broadway, at which the following officers for the ensuing year were elected:

Commander, Emil O. Kiefer, vice-commander, Gerald Delgado; second vice-commander, Gordon Clayton; adjutant, Harry G. Bracken; treasurer, Jesse Flower; sergeant at arms, Vice Commander Dru W. Nicolas; executive committee, James F. McBryde, Dr. H. V. Brown, Joe Wilson, W. B. Kelley and Dr. G. Kaemmerling. Installation of the new officers will take place at the next regular meeting.

A number of the boys from Thornycroft were present and put in their applications to become members of the legion and also thanked the post for the pool table which was given them at Christmas time.

The retiring officers are planning to give a ball in honor of the incoming officers January 22.

PROGRAM PLEASURES

UNITED MISSIONARY MEETING IS HELD AT RESIDENCE OF MRS. J. E. PETERS

The United Missionary societies of the First Christian church were entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Peters, 209 North Orange street.

The usual routine business was attended to and then followed the program of the afternoon.

Features of unusual interest marked this meeting. Among them were the reading of letters from Dr. George Mosher and Evelyn Utter Pierson, missionaries working at Lumbumbi, in the Congo river region, Africa. News from these missionaries was of special interest from the fact that both of them are former members of Glendale Christian church.

Several enjoyable musical numbers added much to the program, and refreshments were served by the hostess during the social hour that followed the program.

Glendale Ranks Well Among Larger Cities In Building Records

Reports of building permits issued in thirty-eight cities in southern California and four in Arizona — Phoenix, Tucson, Globe and Douglas—show building operations of $111,318,524 in 1920 as compared with $60,182,952 in 1919. Phoenix and Glendale, Ariz., Fresno and Calexico, Calif., alone showed a decrease in 1920 from the previous year's record.

Glendale stands sixth among all these cities in building operations the past year, being far ahead of Phoenix, Tucson, Santa Ana, Santa Barbara, Santa Monica, Pomona, San Bernardino, Riverside and other cities of greater population. Only Los Angeles, Long Beach, Fresno, San Diego and Pasadena, all of more than 50,000 population, exceed Glendale's 1920 building record.

Of course, these figures do not represent anywhere near all the building of the year. In Glendale as well as other cities, a great many houses, business buildings and factories have been erected just outside the city limits and for these no permits are required, hence no record can be made of them.

Probably these building operations in the suburbs of all the cities mentioned totaled several millions. The year 1920 will long stand out as the banner year in building for the Pacific coast.

BACK FROM INDIA

FORMER GLENDALE GIRL HERE AFTER MISSIONARY WORK; LUNCHEON IS GIVEN

Mrs. J. J. Davis, at her home, 240 North Louise, gave a delightful luncheon in honor of Mrs. O. G. Dressler, and her mother, Mrs. Lillie Adams. Mrs. Dressler was formerly Miss Pearl M. Adams and with her parents resided in Glendale for several years on South Adams street. After graduating from Occidental college she went out from the Glendale Presbyterian church as a missionary to India. Mr. Dressler is a Y. M. C. A. man and he and Miss Adams were married in India and have but recently returned to America on account of Mr. Dressler's health.

The luncheon table was daintily decorated in spring blossoms and after a delicious luncheon served by the hostess, Mrs. Dressler entertained those present by showing them many of the interesting things which she had brought from the Hindoo country and telling of her impressions and experiences. At the close of the afternoon she presented each guest present with a piece of drawn work or embroidery worked by her teachers or girls in her school in India.

The guests were from among the old resident friends of the Adams, and besides Mrs. Dressler and her daughter Margaret, and Mrs. Adams, guests of honor, the guests included Mesdames W. E. Edmonds, J. A. Newton, R. P. Isitt, Z. L. Hesse, M. P. Harrison, R. D. King, T. W. Preston and the hostess, Mrs. J. J. Davis.

LOCAL W. C. T. U.

SIXTEENTH ANNIVERSARY OF ORGANIZATION OBSERVED AT WALLER RESIDENCE

The sixteenth anniversary of the organization of the Glendale W. C. T. U. was celebrated by an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. Eva Waller, 343 West Broadway, yesterday.

The speakers for the day were Dr. Sara E. Wise, for twenty years a practicing physician in San Francisco, but who is now interested in state and national child welfare work and talked on this subject, and Mrs. Bishop of Rochester, New York, who talked about the work that is being done in the state of New York, featuring the co-operation of women's clubs with the W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Bishop was for a number of years county president of the union and also state superintendent.

A picnic lunch was enjoyed at noon. Thirty members were present and had a delightful time.

POSTAL SERVICE IMPROVED

It is announced that Eagle Rock City is to have a postoffice station that will include a superintendent, relief clerk, three city carriers, and one rural route driver. The quarters have not yet been chosen.

MASS MEETING TO HEAR PLANS

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO BE SUBJECT OF TALKS WEDNESDAY NIGHT

COMMITTEE TO ACT

PLANS FOR SPEAKERS AND HEADQUARTERS ARE NOW BEING COMPLETED

The campaign for a greater Glendale Chamber of Commerce and to provide a fund of $25,000 a year with which to finance Chamber of Commerce activities and other civic work in which all Glendale community organizations are interested, will be launched at a mass meeting of business men and citizens generally next Wednesday night, in the sales room of Chambers & Felts, agents for the Hudson and Essex motor cars, 228 South Brand boulevard.

In addition to a full outline of the campaign and expansion plans by the executive committee and campaign director, there will be prominent out-of-town speakers who have had experience in similar campaigns in nearby cities. The meeting will be open to all who desire to attend and there will be something doing every minute, the committee promise.

Those interested in a greater Glendale and who would like to make suggestions to the executive committee or to criticize the plans outlined for the campaign, are particularly urged to be present. There will be opportunity for general discussion and the executive committee will be very glad to have the suggestions of those who have given thought to the task in hand, it is announced.

Select Campaign Headquarters

Headquarters for the campaign will be established early next week in one of the new buildings being erected on West Broadway by Mrs. J. B. McEnany. The committee on headquarters consisting of C. C. Cooper and E. P. Hayward of the Citizens' committee investigated several possible locations and decided in favor of this one because of its nearness to the center of town and its accessibility to the public and those who will be active in the campaign.

The committee also has in mind using this location as permanent headquarters for the new Chamber of Commerce pending completion of the civic center in which it is hoped the chamber, along with all other organizations, will be provided with suitable offices and meeting rooms.

Just as soon as the new headquarters are completed, which it is expected will be early next week, they will be occupied by the campaign forces and at the same time, an effort will be made to perform the usual work of the Chamber of Commerce in providing information for the public, particularly the visitors who are coming to Glendale in great numbers at this season.

HOME BUILDING

REV. AND MRS. MOTTERN AT COUSINS WHILE OWN HOUSE IS BEING CONSTRUCTED

Reverend and Mrs. R. W. Mottern are temporarily domiciled very comfortably in the home of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Daugherty, 219 North Adams street, while their own home at 210 Adams street is being built.

While it's quite fashionable nowadays to live in one's garage while one's house is being built, the Motterns preferred to accept the hospitality of their cousins. The new home will be ready for occupancy in the course of two or three weeks.

Last Sunday the Motterns and the Daughertys entertained Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sanders of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, who are wintering in Pasadena. Like the good Glendale boosters they are, the Motterns and Daughertys took their guests for a ride about the city, to impress upon them its charm; and the Sanders were duly impressed, too,—so much so that when they next leave their Eastern home for California, their objective point will be Glendale.

NO DAMAGE FROM FIRE

The fire department was called out at 10:40 o'clock yesterday morning to extinguish a blaze which had started in some way when the gas company opened a two-inch main at the corner of Louise street and Lomita avenue. No damage was done.

PREPARE FINAL CHARTER DRAFT

LAST CHANGES ARE MADE IN DOCUMENT IS BELIEF OF FREEHOLDER BOARD

ELECTION IN SPRING

VOTERS OF CITY TO BALLOT ON PROPOSED CHANGES IN MARCH OR APRIL

Final draft of the proposed city charter is now being written as the result of action taken at the meeting of the board of freeholders at the city hall last night, Bert P. Woodward, chairman, presiding.

Tentative draft of the charter was gone over last night, starting at 7 o'clock and concluding at 11 o'clock, and a number of changes were made.

The final draft is now being written and the board of freeholders will meet at the city hall, according to decision reached last night, to vote on the adoption of the completed charter.

The document will be filed with the city clerk and by him presented to the board of trustees next Thursday night, according to the present plans.

The election at which the voters of Glendale will pass upon the charter will be held very late in March or in April, it was announced at the meeting last night. The legislature has to ratify the charter, but no opposition is expected to develop there, the action being a step made necessary by the law.

One of the important changes made in the draft last night was the fixing of the pay of the city councilmen at $20 a meeting and providing that not more than six meetings in any month be held. The pay of the trustees now is $5 a meeting.

The board of freeholders, it was stated, is anticipating that the city council will, because of increased business, be forced to meet during the day and as the members of the council will, presumably, be in other employment, it is believed that they should not lose money by working for the city.

City Manager Appointive Several of the board members last night urged that the city manager be made an elective rather than an appointive officer and also that one of the requirements be that he be a resident of the city. The majority of the board, however, favored the appointive plan, holding that the council should have the power to "hire and fire" the city manager.

Hartley Shaw, city attorney, was present at the meeting and aided in making a number of changes in the draft.

Those of the board present were C. D. Lusby, R. M. McGee, F. L. Muhleman, W. R. Phelon, Dr. Jessie A. Russell, Mrs. Mabel L. Tigh, Henry Johnston, Bert P. Woodward and G. B. Woodberry.

FATAL ACCIDENT

WILLIAM FRANCIS BARCAFER OF NORTH LOUISE STREET DEAD OF INJURIES

William Francis Barsafer, North Louise street, died this morning at a Santa Monica hospital as the result of injuries received yesterday when he was struck by a street car in that city. His daughter, Mrs. George B. Schrier of Glendale, and her son will accompany the remains to Kansas City, Missouri, where the burial will be held. L. G. Scovern Undertaking company is in charge.

BACK FROM TRIP TO CANADA

Mr. and Mrs. George Larkin, 1417 South Brand, have some very interesting experiences to relate in connection with their recent trip to Canada. Mr. Larkin, who is employed by the Northern Pictures corporation, played the leading part in a picture which had its locale in Banff and Calgary, Canada. The story for the picture was taken from the book "Corporal Cameron," by Ralph Conner.

A very interesting sight witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Larkin was the wild deer running through the snow-covered woods. Although the trip and the scenery were very beautiful, they were delighted to be back in California. They arrived just in time to celebrate the holidays.

Mr. Larkin is having a large aviary, 54x20, constructed at his residence and has already purchased several rare birds from India.

CONFESSES TO SHOOTING GLENDALE MAN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—Fred K. Leek, 28, a former soldier, held in the county jail in connection with the shooting of J. S. Clarkson, today in a signed statement confessed that he shot the Glendale real estate dealer as the latter was leaving the home of Mrs. Clara E. Bryan at Cudahy station, near here, late Thursday night.

"I have loved Mrs. Bryan for a long time. I thought Clarkson was trying to steal her affections. I lost my head. I was insanely jealous," Leek told Deputy Sheriffs Nolan and Fox.

"Authorities today planned to seek a complaint charging him with assault with a deadly weapon. Clarkson was wounded in one of his shoulders, but was able to leave the Huntington hospital.

GROVES BROTHERS FACE NEW INDICTMENTS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—New indictments, charging conspiracy to violate prohibition laws and extortions, against the Groves brothers, prominent California politicians, were returned today when the federal grand jury, which made an exhaustive inquiry into illicit liquor operations, submitted its final report before United States District Judge Bledsoe.

The Groves brothers are Ralph, a former prohibition officer; F. Ray, until recently secretary of the democratic state central committee, and Edward Groves.

The new indictments are in addition to others returned against them last month, in which they are accused of violating the Volstead act. The extortion charges set forth the alleged receipt by the defendants of sums of money ranging from $500 to $2000.

HARDING MAKES TWO DEFINITE DECISIONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MARION, O., Jan. 8.—Two final decisions have been made by President-elect Harding, it was learned in authoritative quarters here today. These, the only two certainties which stand out from the confusion which shrouds the cabinet situation, are that George Christian, Jr., of Marion, will be secretary to the president, and that Harry Daugherty, Columbus, will be the "Colonel House" of the Harding administration.

HELPER CHOSEN

MISS BERTHA SAYRE IS NAMED TO ASSIST IN WORK FOR CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE

Miss Bertha Sayre, 914 South Central avenue, has been employed by the Citizens' Campaign committee to assist in the work of the campaign to expand and reorganize the Chamber of Commerce. Miss Sayre has lived in Glendale for seven years. She is the daughter of H. N. Sayre, retired, who moved here from Chicago.

It is expected that Miss Sayre will be permanently employed by the Chamber of Commerce and she is beginning at the very outset of the campaign in order to become familiar with all the details of its development. She will have as assistants other young women of Glendale, who will be engaged next week to perform the large amount of clerical service incidental to the campaign.

BRISK DEMAND FOR STORY

There is a brisk demand at The Evening News office for the reprint of the story of Glendale's prize-winning float in the Pasadena parade on New Year's day. The copies, which are being given free, are going fast, many people being glad of the chance to give them to Eastern friends. Those wishing copies should apply at this office immediately.

REALTY BROKERS HOLD GATHERING

ATTENTION IS DIRECTED AT MEETING HELD YESTERDAY TO PROPOSED BILL

DISCUSS LEGISLATION

SCHEDULE OF COMMISSIONS TO BE CHARGED BY LOCAL BOARD TO BE SET

A large, enthusiastic and "peppy" meeting of the Glendale real estate board was held in Judge H. M. Miller's court room at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Various projects of interest to the citizens of Glendale and to the real estate dealers were discussed freely and among other things attention was directed to a new bill before the state legislature, which will rectify, it is claimed, many of the errors and deficiencies of the present license law for real estate dealers. Two of the most vital changes will require that each broker be bonded for $1000 and that before being granted a license he must have served at least one year as salesman in a licensed broker's office.

Charles B. Guthrie made an informal, extemporaneous report of the doings of the state convention, but will follow this up at the next meeting with a full detailed account. What he had to say gave an indication of the scope of work undertaken by the California Real Estate association, and showed that no activity for progress and development exists without the influence of the real estate federation.

Schedule of Commissions One of the bits of routine business conducted by the local board was the appointment of a committee to draft a schedule of commissions which will be approved by the board and be accepted as standard, though not necessarily placing an obligation to abide by this schedule. This schedule will very likely conform very closely, if not entirely, with that adopted by the Los Angeles real estate board, which resulted from very thorough investigation and co-operation by all parties interested, courts of justice and the public, as well as the real estate dealers.

DIES OF HURTS

HENRY L. DILLON IS DEAD AS RESULT OF INJURIES IN CHOPPING DOWN TREE

Henry L. Dillon, 112 East Acacia avenue, died yesterday from injuries received in an accident at the Broadway school December 4, 1920. Mr. Dillon was engaged in chopping down one of the large pepper trees and was caught as he was trying to get out of a hole which had been dug to facilitate the removal of the tree as it was falling.

Funeral services will be held from the parlors of L. G. Scovern Undertaking company tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The remains will be sent to Topeka, Kansas.

WOMAN'S GUILD

ANNUAL MEETING IS HELD BY ORGANIZATION; OFFICIALS ARE ANNOUNCED

The Woman's Guild of St. Mark's church held their annual meeting on Thursday.

Mrs. LeRoy Bosserman, under whose efficient leadership the Guild made great strides during the past year, resigned from the presidency because she will be away from the city much of the time this year. Miss Ellen Williams, vice-president, resigned because she was unable to continue the work this year.

The newly-elected officers are Mrs. B. O. Holbrook, president; Mrs. H. L. Baker, vice-president; Mrs. R. E. Downing, secretary; Nellie Mai Williams, treasurer.

The report of the work for the past year showed great growth and success in the Guild. There are now forty members, and the Guild meets every Thursday. Food and fancy-work during the past year netted a satisfactory sum.

A reception, dinner and social in honor of the newly-elected officers will be given next Thursday by the Guild communicants of St. Mark's and their families will also be guests.

PLAN AGGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—It was learned today that plans for an aggressive campaign for enactment of the Harris prohibition enforcement act have been outlined by state assembly dry leaders.

THAT ABUSED BACHELOR

Who is it that always delights the mothers by chucking their youngsters under the chin, and who never fails to have some peppermints in his pockets? Why, the bachelor friend of the family, of course. Yet you never hear his praises sung. There is a Mother's Day, and a Father's Day, but there is no day for unwed
uncles, natural or acquired.

Every bachelor is a potential uncle to every kid. Every bachelor responds when Johnny trots out his shiny new pig bank. When Daddy
can't find a penny for sister, the old
bach who happens to be there sticks
his hand in his pocket, remarks that he believes he has a little chicken-
feed, and presents Sis with a big nickel—invariably.

Married folk are entirely too fond of running down the bachelor. They
the poor fellow does occasionally
need a button, and perhaps he's not
just as careful as his friends' wives
think he should be. But goodness knows we all have faults. If you think a man never amounts to anything until he gets married, just consider some of the notable bachelors
of history.

Michelangelo, the artist, was unmarried, as was Voltaire, the philosopher. Then there were Rafael, Chopin, Beethoven, Charles Lamb,
Pope, Henry James and Swinburne.
Add Petrarch, Kitchener, Cecil Rhodes and President Buchanan to the list, and you'll agree that the bachelors have a little Hall of Fame
all their own.

SUPERINTENDENT

MISS GRACE MCKINLEY CHOSEN FOR RESEARCH HOSPITAL; OPENS MARCH 1

The Glendale Research hospital,
built and sponsored by citizens of Glendale, is nearing completion. It will represent Glendale in its broadest sense in that it gives, through the hospitality and liberality of our people, an opportunity for those, not residents, who may need physical relief, to profit by the wonderful atmosphere and healthful surroundings.

Expense has not been spared to make the hospital a model as to modern sanitation, and it is expected to be open for receiving patients by March 1. The directors have been fortunate in securing as superintendent of the hospital, Miss Grace Mc-Kinley, of San Francisco, whose attainments rank her as one of the most capable hospital technicians on the coast.

In Important Positions
Miss McKinley was chief hospital
nurse of the French hospital in San Francisco for fourteen years, also for some time acted in the same capacity
for the Los Angeles County hospital.
She was superintendent of nurses of the McNitt hospital and school of nursing of San Francisco, and held
a like position in the Guild hospital
of Palo Alto, Calif. She comes highly recommended by William F. Snow,
M. D., former secretary of the California State Board of Health, now
with the National Board of Health
of Washington, D. C., and by R. L.
Wilbur, M. D., president of Stanford university.

It is stated that the directorate of
the hospital will continue its selection of the personnel of the institution
in the same thorough way in which they have begun it, and that every endeavor will be made to make the new hospital a credit to Glendale
and to southern California.

was read before Judge F. H. Lowe

NOT THE SAME!

There are about 250 level-premium, old-line life insurance companies in the U. S., all of which are safe so far as solvency goes,
but, as in other lines of business,
there is a wide difference in management and consequent cost to the insured.

Nearly all these companies are
mutual and have low net cost.
Naturally, some of them lead all
the rest in solidity, provisions of contract and low cost. I represent the company which I believe has
the finest history, in all these particulars, of all the companies in the business. This is SOME statement to make but I am convinced
it is absolutely true and I will be glad to demonstrate that fact to you.

DR. CLYDE WILSON RETAINED TO SUPERVISE MEASURES
AGAINST PIPE MOSS

For the purpose, it is announced,
of supervising the sterilization of the city's water supply and to assume charge of whatever measures may be necessary to control the growth of
"pipe moss" in the water distributing system, the board of city trustees,
at its meeting last Thursday night,
authorized the employment of Dr.
Carl Wilson of Los Angeles.

The motion to employ Dr. Wilson was made by Trustee Bartlett, upon recommendation of T. W. Watson,
city manager. The sum of $100 a month will be appropriated from the funds of the public service department to pay Dr. Wilson. His employment dates from the first of the year and is to last, it is planned,
until the first of July.

Letter from City Manager
The recommendation from the city
manager to the trustees on the subject follows:

"I would respectfully request authorization to employ Dr. Carl Wilson of Los Angeles to supervise the sterilization of the city's water supply and to take charge of whatever measures that may be necessary to control the growth of crenothrix (pipe moss) in the water distribution
system, which services will include
the making of bacterial counts daily
from samples taken before and after the water is sterilized and including
all chemical analysis in connection
therewith and that the sum of $100 per month for the balance of the present fiscal year including the month of January be appropriated to cover the cost of such service."

the staple food products of the world,
and southern California now boasts
of having one of the most up-to-date
and sanitary plants in the United States manufacturing this article of food. This plant is operated by Morris & Company, 734 Terminal street, Los Angeles, manufacturers of the famous Milcoa and Supreme Brands
of Margarine.

Being impressed by the seemingly great demand for this product in southern California, it was decided to gather some data in reference to it.
Like many people, the investigator
had been prejudiced against the use of Margarine, but investigation into the composition of the product and how it is made has swept aside all
former antipathy toward the article.
Investigation shows:

That Margarine is a cooked product, making it practically sterile and free from anything that would be injurious to health.

Used in Place of Butter
That highest authorities on food products claim Margarine is about as nutritious as butter and can be used wherever butter is used with equal satisfaction, as a spread for bread or for cooking and baking purposes.

That Margarine costs from one-
third to one-half less than butter.

That Margarine is manufactured
under government supervision, insur-
ing hygienic methods in the manufacture and handling of the product.

That there were 375,000,000
pounds of margarine consumed in the United States last year, equaling
three and three-quarters pounds per capita per year.

GRATIFIED BY ATTENDANCE

the large attendance at their sale of
house dresses of zephyr gingham,
English prints and percales and aprons of Amoskeag and A. F. C. ginghams, which they advertised in yesterday's issue of The Evening News.

"Ladies fairly flocked in this morning," said Mr. Gordon. "They certainly keep a sharp eye out for bargains advertised in The Evening

Today Gordon's advertise a Monday stocking sale elsewhere in these

dress sale will continue Monday, also.

System in the Home

Some women think that laundry service is for families of unlimited means only. Such is not the case. It is the woman who must manage every department of her household and do
most of the work herself who gains most by sending her clothes to the laundry. This relieves her of the hardest work of the week and gives her more strength for other duties and more time for her family and the management of her home.
It's not the wealthy woman but the systematic, business-like
woman who sends her laundry out.

Just call Glendale 1630 and one of our wagons will call for

PITY THE COMPANY COOK!
WILLIAMSON, W. Va.—Recipes for toothsome things, such as are found on the "women's pages," and in women's magazines, are eagerly read by the federal soldiers on strike duty in this region, and then passed on to the company cook.

This fact was discovered at headquarters here when a lieutenant came in from one of the outlying posts for supplies. "The boys have cut enough recipes from the woman's pages to last the poor cook five years, and they insist on him trying all of them," he said. "I think he'll have to get a paper baker when we break camp."

and the construction and completion thereof of municipal buildings for the purpose of storing materials, supplies, vehicles, and equipment owned by the city of Glendale, the estimated cost of which is $26,000.

Total Bond Issue $275,000.
The total, as provided for by the trustees, is $275,000. It is stated that each project stands on its own merits. In other words, each proposition may be carried or defeated by itself.

A portion of the bond issue is for the proposed civic center, that was last November voted for by the people but which, because of a technicality, was not favorably received by bond experts. Hence, it is to be re-submitted.

It is probable, according to statements made at the city hall that the election will be held in February.

SHOW FRIENDSHIP

ALL EX-SERVICE MEN SURE
OF BEING WELL CARED
FOR IN GLENDALE

No ex-service man in Glendale need ever feel friendless and alone—for the American Legion and its Women's Auxiliary vie with one another in loving and effective service to the soldier boys. This is the testimony of service men at Thornycroft; and their testimony may be considered reliable, for the Legion and its auxiliary let not a day pass without showing them some kindness. Ladies of the auxiliary take turns every week in giving those of the boys who are not bed-ridden an outing; some of them are invited to dinner, others are taken for an auto ride. Those who are unable to go out are cheered by visits and gifts of dainties that mean so much to sick people.

The war nurses at Thornycroft, too, who are also soldiers brave—perhaps it takes even more courage for a woman to go to war and work amidst its nauseating horrors, are tenderly looked after by the Legion and the auxiliary.

Each of the three war nurses at Thornycroft received a lovely woolen knit jacket for Christmas from the auxiliary, also a pair of warm elderson slippers; and the Legion gave each nurse a half-dozen fine embroidered handkerchiefs.

All Receive Christmas Boxes
Every ex-service man and every nurse received also a Christmas box packed at the home of Mrs. George Clayton, member of the auxiliary; and the Legion gave each soldier boy a handsome necktie and a pair of warm bed slippers. Mrs. Clayton sent them oranges, and she and the Gerald Delgado family spent their Christmas Eve decorating the large Christmas tree at Thornycroft and also the individual trees, all of which were given by the Elks of Glendale.

Ladies who assisted in the packing of the boxes at Mrs. Clayton's home are Mesdames Kelley, Flint Emery, McBrayde and Hayward.

The decorations on the large tree were generously loaned by Miss Ida White, principal of the Colorado street school, and the Knights of Columbus gave the decorations for the small trees. Mr. Newton, of the Newton Electric company, loaned the two sets of lights, and donated his services for their proper wiring.

The billiard and pool table, a present that is "a joy forever," was the gift of the American Legion, and not of the Elks, as stated in these columns in a previous article.

Mrs. Lewis Leppelman induced friends of hers to pack the individual boxes, which were afterwards checked up by the committee at Mrs. Clayton's home to make sure no one was missed. The auxiliary has other delightful plans in prospect for the benefit of the soldier boys and the war nurses, or "soldier girls," at Thornycroft.

BOW AND ARROW

PRIMITIVE WEAPON USED ON
BEARS AND IS DECLARED
SUCCESSFUL SPORT

Shooting grizzlies with bow and arrow would perhaps not appeal to the average sportsman in these days of highly developed firearms, but to Dr. Saxton, Pope of California, that's the only real sport.

Up until a short time ago he had shot all kinds of game, from squirrel and quail to mountain lion and black bear with his bow. Then the ambition seized him to go out and tackle the king of American big game, the grizzly. As the specimens he might obtain were to be used for museum purposes, he obtained permission from Washington to hunt the big bear in Yellowstone National park, about the only place where the species is still found in any number.

In an account in Forest and Stream (New York) he tells of the thrilling experience of laying low a Ursus horribilis imperator with bow and arrow.

With Bows and Arrows
Accompanied by a guide, the doctor and a friend started out in quest of bear, armed only with bows and a dozen arrows each and hunting knives. The guide, for safety's sake, carried a rifle. After three or four days' scouting about they came upon a bear family of four feeding on a hillside. What happened is thus related:

"Ned took out his green silk pocket-handkerchief and floated it, to test the direction of the wind. Yes, everything was O. K. We drew three good arrows apiece from our quivers, and nocked one on the string. All ready, we crouch low and advance without a sound.

"I pick out the far one because he looks good to me, and glancing out of the corner of my eye signal to Young

LECTURE SERIES

DR. SARAH E. WISE TO GIVE
NUMBER OF TALKS HERE
IN VARIOUS CHURCHES

Announcement is being made in the display columns by the local W. C. T. U. of a series of lectures to be given in the churches of Glendale by Dr. Sarah E. Wise for twenty years a prominent practicing physician of San Francisco, on "Moral Education and Social Betterment."

Dr. Wise is a national lecturer on social morality for the W. C. T. U. and is said to be a noted psychologist and child welfare expert. Ladies who heard her Friday afternoon say she is a speaker of magnetic personality and one of the most popular speakers on the coast.

Those interested will find Dr. Wise's subjects, and the times and places when her lectures will be given, in another column.

to shoot. We draw our powerful bows to the full arc and let two deadly arrows fly. My bear rears up, an arrow planted deep in his shoulder. There is a roar like dinner-time in a menagerie. Quickly I nock another arrow. The beasts are milling around together, biting, pawing, mad with pain and surprise.

"I single out my boy phoned with an arrow. He has thrown himself on his mother in his rage. I shoot and miss him clean—too much action. I nock again. One large bear stands out in the circling, roaring bunch. She is biting, cuffing, roaring on her hind legs, the blood runs from her mouth and nostrils in frothy streams. Young's arrow is deep in her chest. I drive a shaft into her, below her foreleg."

Rifle Bullet Not Fatal
Presently the female bear catches sight of her assailants and charges. At this moment the guide fires his rifle and knocks the animal down. Two more arrows finish her, and she sprawls on the ground, dead. Subsequent investigation reveals that the rifle bullet did not inflict an immediately mortal wound, but it did stop the charge. The wounds from the arrows received prior to the gunshot were deadly. The charge was made in the animal's death-struggle, but what its outcome would have been Dr. Pope suggests he does not know. The bear would have been upon the intrepid archers in another minute, and they felt grateful to their guide for his timely shot. The two-year-olds had run away at the boom of the gun. They found one of them later, dead, with an arrow in its thorax.—Literary Digest.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

EVADING DISARMAMENT

A Japanese official stated a few days ago that the world was not ready for disarmament, and thereby voiced a sentiment that receives the support of a number of other great powers, whose repeated expressions for universal peace probably made them ashamed to admit the truth.

If the world is not ready to disarm, what, it may be asked, does the world propose to do in the interim between the present and the time when disarmament becomes the fixed policy of the nations? What bloodshed and what destruction are contemplated or probable?

The allies have forced Germany to give up practically all the more formidable instruments of war, but it is estimated by an allied military commander that great quantities of small arms and supplies are still being held, hidden away by the people. Has Germany retained the nucleus of another great war machine?

The truth is that mankind, in the mass, likes the clink of the sword and the other accomplishments of war, and above all it likes to enhance its own interests even to the extent of taking away from others the things that are rightfully their property.

The time for disarmament would be the present if the nations were willing to admit the rights of the peoples to enter into possession of their rightful inheritances and work out their national life in a way that would benefit the race. The spirit of conquest and revenge is still rampant in the thoughts of many peoples, and peace can never be general until these thoughts cease to dominate.

GOOD HEALTH NO MYSTERY

Except in the cases of persons who are affected by organic ailments, the business of keeping in a reasonably good condition of health is not one that should puzzle persons of average intelligence. Plenty of exercise and fresh air, nourishing food in moderate quantities and protection of the body against the weather, constitute about all the precautions the individual need take.

Physicians practically agree that most of the so-called colds, and infections that develop into influenza and pneumonia, are caused by neglect of the things that keep the human machine functioning in a normal way. Over-heated, poorly-ventilated homes are the chief cause of the colds that so frequently develop serious conditions.

Most persons dress too warmly for indoors and then neglect to protect themselves sufficiently when they go out into the weather. The result in numerous cases is congestion that lowers the vitality of the body and makes it easy prey of the germs that infect the atmosphere under certain conditions.

The greatest danger in the winter season probably lies in the tendency of so many persons to keep their rooms heated to a temperature above that commonly accepted as the most healthful—68 to 70 degrees—with frequent changes of air during the day in order that all foul air may be driven from the living quarters.

Many persons fear to go outdoors because they may catch cold, but the greatest danger is in depriving themselves of the fresh air that is necessary if the lungs are to carry on their function of supplying the blood with oxygen and in return carrying from the blood the effluvia that is poisonous to the system.

Too much coddling of the body indoors, over-eating or indulgence in food not adapted to the needs of the body, with failure to protect the body when going outdoors, probably lie at the seat of most of the ailments that have their origin in the respiratory organs or digestive tract—and the combination is often most serious in its effects.

Good health is not purchaseable, nor is it easily regained when once lost. There is only one way in which to secure it, and that is by right living.

FORD PARTS WILL NOT DROP, CLAIM

NO REDUCTION IN PRICES, IS INFORMATION RECEIVED FROM HEADQUARTERS

"Many Ford owners have been holding back on repairs or overhauling work because they have believed that Ford parts would come down in price to coincide with the drop in Ford motor vehicles. These people will wait in vain, because, according to word received from Ford headquarters at Detroit, Michigan, there will absolutely be no reduction in the price of Ford parts," says B. L. Graves, manager of the Los Angeles branch of the Ford Motor company.

"The Ford Motor company is losing money on some models and making just enough on others to counterbalance the loss. Some materials have come down in price, but freight rates have risen, and with labor the same, the cost of production and distribution remains unchanged and thus there can be no reduction in the price of Ford parts for some time to come.

Should Act at Once

"It is our advice to Ford owners to have all repairing they have been holding back done immediately so as not to cause any further damage to their cars and consequent larger repair bills in the end. The authorized Glendale Ford dealers have fully equipped shops to give the best and most efficient Ford repair service and they carry only standard replacement units. If you will deal with the authorized dealer in your district, he will be able to keep your Ford in the best mechanical condition and at the same time save you many dollars by giving you bits of valuable advice, which he, as a Ford expert, has learned to be of great help to Ford owners," concluded Mr. Graves.

LONG LOW COST IS DEMAND FOR TIRES

WILLIAM H. HOOPER DECLARES FORMER STANDARDS WON'T SATISFY MOTORISTS

"Tire costs are measured in miles and in freedom from trouble. Today the old pre-war standards are no longer adequate. Motorists demand tire uniformity, long low cost mileage, freedom from puncture worries, an end of blow-out nuisance. Lower price per mile costs are uppermost in the minds of all." So relates Wm. H. Hooper, local Miller tire dealer.

"The occasional freak tire that shows remarkable wear is not the solution of the problem. Low costs are not determined by buying the 'bargain' tire, the 'gyp' tire and the 'no name' tire. The tire wanted is the tire that under like conditions will outwear other tires.

How Problem Is Solved

"Here is how one of Akron's Big Four, the Miller Rubber company, solved the problem. Tests and comparisons were made. New ideas were tried. Expenses averaged thousands of dollars monthly. The goal was a twice better tire than that built before. Finally a way was found to make an improvement. By this time experiments had cost almost a million dollars.

"Then it appeared that mold and equipment worth $250,000 must also be scrapped. The tire was tried out in million mile tests and on the mountain climber cars of the Pike's Peak region. And because it was a success and proved the winner, the makers called it their million dollar tire. It is the story of the Miller million dollar cord."

DAVE LEWIS SURE WHIRLWIND DRIVER

ROADS OF SOUTHLAND BEING FREELY TRAVELED OVER BY ESSEX CAR

Dave Lewis is proving himself a whirlwind driver. Every minute of his stay in southern California so far has been filled with activity, and now on a test run, taken merely to "look over the country," his Essex has done more than many another car would have accomplished in an actual test.

With a stock touring car, not his transcontinental Essex, but a demonstrator of Harold L. Arnold's, he went to Phoenix. Then after a visit with the Essex dealers there he turned back toward Los Angeles. Rougher roads than this 400-mile trip would be hard to find, but see how Lewis did it. Leaving Phoenix at 6:30 a. m. he passed Vicksburg at 12 o'clock. He reached Blythe shortly thereafter and leaving at 2:30 p. m. arrived in Los Angeles at 12, midnight.

He was in Phoenix in the morning, Los Angeles the same night, completing a trip usually taking two or three days. "This was not undertaken to prove Essex speed," said Dave, "nor indeed to prove anything. But nevertheless it does prove a great many things. Principally that the Essex is dependable on the roughest desert road or the smoothest concrete highway."

GIVES OWNERS HELP IN REGISTRATIONS

GLENDALE REPRESENTATIVE OF
AUTOMOBILE CLUB TO AID
IN SECURING LICENSES

Stafford Harlow, local representative of the Automobile Club of Southern California, has announced that all members of this organization desiring assistance in securing their 1921 automobile registration certificates and plates can obtain same by calling at the club office located at the corner of Brand boulevard and Colorado street. Members, through this procedure, will be saved considerable time, trouble and annoyance that would otherwise be experienced at the motor vehicle department during this congested period.

The process is simply this: Take your certificate of registration from your machine and bring it to the auto club branch office. The certificate must be accompanied by a check for the proper amount, made payable to the motor vehicle department. The correct amount is based on 40 cents per horsepower.

Where Certificate Is Damaged.
In cases where the certificate is damaged, faded or illegible in any way, the motor vehicle department requires that the registered owner fill out in ink his name, address, make of car, license number and motor number on the certificate. In cases where there is a legal owner, his or her name must be written in the space provided.

Superintendent Butler announces that the 1920 licenses expire February 1. Cars purchased in January will have to pay a five-quarter license fee, that is to say, they will have to pay for the final quarter of 1920 and the four quarters of 1921. In cases where the certificate of ownership has been lost the registered owner must fill out an application for a duplicate certificate which costs 50 cents in addition to the 1921 license fee.

On making application club members will be given a receipt bearing the date on which the plates may be called for. The new certificates will accompany the new license plates.

AUTOMOBILE CAMPS PROVE ATTRACTIVE

SUGGESTION IS MADE THAT CITY OF GLENDALE AID
BY PROVIDING ONE

Continuing its efforts to maintain the automobile camps of the state in a high condition of cleanliness and sanitation, the California State Board of Health is actively engaged in co-operating with the authorities everywhere to bring about this much-desired result.

The Automobile Club of Southern California has been asked to aid in this campaign, and is now working with its twenty different branch offices in the various southern counties, from the home office in Los Angeles, to assist the state officials in their work. Much of the comfort and convenience of automobilists journeying through the various counties depends largely on these camps, and their condition is a matter of vital importance.

Under State Regulation
All garbage and refuse should be disposed of as soon as possible and sewage gotten rid of according to the regulations laid down by the State Board of Health. Paper, tin cans, pasteboard or wooden boxes, all receptacles in which food or luncheons are packed, should be burned when they have served their purpose, so as not to leave any particles of food to draw flies. Pure water is, of course, a prime requisite at all camps. Lavatories of modern construction, water-flushed and so built as to prevent flies from getting in, are also a vital necessity; separate ones for women and men, and situated at different portions of the camp. These should be rendered easy of access by suitable signs.

Camps in the southern counties are Alhambra, Anaheim, Bakersfield, Brawley, Buena Park, Calipatria, Chino, Camp Cajon, Corona, Elsinore, Escondido, Fallbrook, Huntington Beach, Los Angeles, Newport Beach, Pasadena, Pomona, Porterville, Santa Maria, San Luis Obispo, Santa Ana, Santa Monica, Tulare, Visalia, Venice and Van Nuys.

Why should not Glendale have one of these camps? It would mean the contribution of a large sum of money annually to the commercial prosperity of the city. Perhaps the municipal trustees would take some action in this matter if they were urged to do so.

ACTUAL SERVICE IS AID TO PURCHASER

REPUTATION ALSO GOES BIG WAY IN HELPING PEOPLE
IN SELECTING CARS

The automobile show season of 1921 marks the furthest advance made by the automobile industry, says O. W. Tarr, of Fish & Tarr, local dealers in Chevrolet passenger and commercial cars.

More than twenty years of manufacture have greatly simplified the design and construction of the motor car, and added many refinements. "At the shows the greatest achievements of automotive engineering will be seen in holiday dress. Those who have owned and driven many cars and who have followed their evolution closely will know what qualities to look for in the cars on exhibition. But those who have had little experience with automobiles may become somewhat confused by so many attractions.

Reputation in Actual Service
"The surest guides to their satisfaction in the selection of a car are its reputation in actual service, and the character of the organization behind it.

"A reputation depends upon the opinion of owners. When the number of cars of any one make increases year after year, it is proof that its owners think and speak well of it.

"The manufacturing organization which has built up such a reputation cannot afford to produce any but reliable cars; and the dealers who represent them cannot afford to give any but satisfactory service.

"The purchaser of a car that is known by its performance is assured of both quality and service."

MAKES REPORT ON THEFTS FOR YEAR

MILLION AND HALF VALUE OF CARS STOLEN IN 1920 IN LOS ANGELES COUNTY

Automobiles valued at $1,525,286 were reported stolen in Los Angeles during 1920, but of 1472 reported stolen, 1283, or about 87.2 per cent, were recovered by the auto theft bureau of the sheriff's office, according to a report to Sheriff Cline by Deputy Dewar, who is in charge of this work.

Deputy Dewar reported that Deputy Wright and Strong made seventy-eight arrests for the theft of cars during the year. The percentage of recoveries in 1919 was 85.3 and in 1918 it was 85, the report showed. Of the 1572 cars reported stolen during the year, no information has been received regarding 189 of them. An accurate check is maintained when an owner recovers his car.

ECONOMY RITS DIPLOMATS

WASHINGTON—Curtailment in expenditures for foreign affairs has brought about conditions in government establishments abroad, especially in consulates and missions that in some cases are "disgraceful," says a memorandum sent to congress by the secretary of state.

"The American mission in Berlin," the memorandum says, "is housed in a building in such bad condition that water soaks through cracks in the walls and in a hard rainstorm pails have to be set about the rooms to catch the water."

"In Budapest, the American mission is situated in rooms which are disgraceful. The approach is through a courtyard and up two flights of steps, smelling outrageously, and always crowded with people coming on legitimate American business. There is so little space that these crowds have to be herded by Hungarian policemen."

REFUSES TO PROSECUTE HIM

BOSTON—William J. McCarthy, prohibition enforcement director for New England, refused to prosecute a sick man in whose home had been found a bedside still and some moonshine whiskey. The man, a victim of tuberculosis, was so weak when the officers made the raid that he could not be moved. He told the officers that his finances would not permit him to purchase whiskey on a medical prescription and that, as he needed stimulant to keep him alive, he had installed the still at the side of his bed.

PLAN CHANGE FOR STATE AUTO LAWS

RADICAL ALTERATIONS TO BE SOUGHT IN STATE'S MOTOR
MEASURE IS PREDICTED

Constructive and radical changes in the state motor vehicle law are indicated for 1921, according to President Percy E. Towne of the California State Automobile association. The preliminary conference called by Superintendent Charles Chenu, which was held in Sacramento, November 22, developed the necessity for many changes in the present law.

The automobile men attending the convention were unanimous in that the state law should be changed to make the minimum age limit for operators of automobiles sixteen years and to so amend the state law as to permit cancellation of licenses where it is shown motorists are incompetent to operate their machines. Adoption of this suggestion, the automobile men believe, will do much toward reduction of automobile accidents in California.

Two other proposed safety first provisions, favored by the California State Automobile association and receiving general approval, were amendments prohibiting the carrying of baggage on the left side of a car where such baggage protrudes beyond the running board, and to prohibit the parking of automobiles on any traveled portion of the highway. A third amendment, also favored by the state association, proposes a corps of state inspectors whose duties will be exclusively confined to patrolling the state highways and enforcing the state motor vehicle act.

Punishment More Certain

To make more certain the punishment of joyriders and persons driving automobiles while intoxicated, it is proposed such offenses shall be made indictable misdemeanors. The experience of the legal department of the automobile association convinced those attending the conference that many joyriders and persons operating machines while intoxicated and when not seen by witnesses to be actually driving their machines in this condition were escaping punishment, juries being disinclined to convict defendants on felony charges. Under the proposed amendments such offenders may be fined and imprisoned by police judges if the evidence is insufficient to hold them to the grand jury on felony charges. This procedure is now precluded by the existing law.

Superintendent Chenu advocated an adequate tax on motor busses. The question of disposition of fines and fees collected for violations of the state law has been left for solution to a joint committee of the league of municipalities and the state board of supervisors.

With the appointment of committees on administration, regulation of equipment, regulation of operation, trucks, trailers and tractors, penalties and enforcement, motor carriers, gasoline and publicity, the conference adjourned to meet in Los Angeles on December 21.

BUSINESS WOMEN FORM CLUB

The Wall Street Women's club is a new factor in commercial life. It is not exactly an organization of embryo Hetty Greens, but of all business women. The club is an outgrowth of the war.

During the war many of the young women in the Wall Street section formed an organization to volunteer as expert office workers in various war agencies. When the war ended and there was no further need of this service, the women did not want to disband. So they decided upon a permanent organization to take in all business women. There are three varieties of membership—active, auxiliary and junior. The active members are business women in New York City, the auxiliary members are business women outside of New York City and the juniors are girls under 21 years of age. Junior membership can be held only two years.

The members meet monthly and talk over their experiences and their ideas for developing a higher sense of responsibility in young women who earn their own living. They want to eliminate the "clock watching" instinct and develop in the women the feeling that their work is of a serious and permanent nature. Likewise, they help one another by giving experiences.

One woman, for instance, who is in charge of a great number of girls in a big Wall Street office, told how from time to time she trades jobs for a day with one of the girls under her. The subordinate takes the boss's desk for the full day and learns just how inattention or inaccuracy on the part of one individual in the company can throw out the whole routine of the office. Also the girls get a first-hand knowledge of the difficulties the boss has to contend with and lose the idea that her principal duty is to look pretty and find fault.

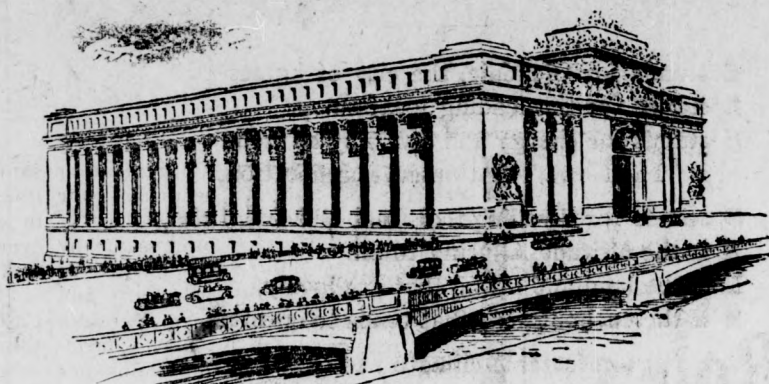

GIRL BANDIT IN FRENCH HEELS
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—A girl bandit, masked and wearing overalls, was sought by police in connection with the robbery here of D. E. Herbert of Hector, Minn.

The girl was described by Herbert as having a soprano voice.

"She wore a man's cap pulled down over her eyes and I noticed she wore French heels," Herbert said.

The girl obtained $40 and a watch from Herbert.

VICTORY HALL

"New York City's Proposed War Memorial, to Include a Public Forum, Corridor of the States, Hall of the Allies, Enduring Headquarters for the American Legion and War Work Organizations, Exposition Hall and Center of Music for the People."

ENLARGE PLANS

VICTORY HALL TO HAVE BIG CORRIDOR OF STATES FOR ONE OF FEATURES

The Glendale Evening News is in receipt of information to the effect that Victory Hall, New York City's war memorial, is attracting country-wide attention by reason of the fact that its plans have been enlarged so that it will have true national influence and significance.

In this connection the provision for a corridor of states stands out most prominently. This "corridor" will encircle the great amphitheatre which will have a seating capacity of 10,000. In it each state and territory will have opportunity to memorialize its own war services as it may deem most fitting. As the full co-operation of all the states and territories is essential to the success of this feature of the proposed memorial, General George W. Wingate, president of the Victory Hall association, has sent letters to all the state and territorial governors explaining the project and asking for their personal indorsement of it.

MOTOR CAMPS ARE VERY ATTRACTIVE

PARTY IN OAKLAND CAR MAKE LONG TOURS AND ENJOY
MUNICIPAL GROUNDS

It must be admitted that a large number of municipalities, among which was Los Angeles, did not at first take very readily to the city motor camp idea. Now, however, motor camps have sprung up like so many mushrooms, in every city of importance in the country, until they have become a national institution. Not only are they a symbol of civic hospitality, but they have put the pleasure and educational value of the transcontinental trip within the reach of every motor car owner's pocketbook.

By utilizing the motor camps in the various cities, a motorist can cross the continent with a very modest expenditure. In fact, Mr. and Mrs. George Griffith, who have just arrived from Philadelphia in an Overland car, discovered that they made the trip at a cost of $4 per day, which they think beats paying exorbitant rents in one's own home town. The Overland has been their means of transportation and their home as well, for some three months past.

They Visit Motor Camps

The Griffiths have taken their time, traveling here, there and everywhere throughout the country, with nothing but the dictates of their own fancy to direct their course. Starting from Philadelphia, where Griffith is connected with the Times Square Auto Supply company, they proceeded west through Pennsylvania and Ohio. From start to finish, the Griffiths made it a point to visit the motor camps provided by the various municipalities for the use of motor tourists, and their experiences with these, they assert, would fill a book.

On the whole, the cities and towns of the nation are taking great pride in keeping their auto camps in good condition, the Overland tourists declare. In one, Overland park, at Denver where there are three motor camps, over 500 cars were counted. Cafeterias, baths, laundries and everything else for the motorists were provided right at the park.

Griffith found that the little Overland averaged twenty-five miles to the gallon for the entire trip and repairs cost him nothing—there were none to be made. All expenses came to less than $4 a day for himself and his wife.

CLOSER TO CONSUMERS

Before business had reached the present perfection of system, farmers would haul their produce to town and sell either to consumers direct, or to grocers, who would take a small profit in passing the goods on to their patrons.

This method has been almost generally abandoned for the more complex, and also more expensive, one of having several persons take profits between the time the farmer sells his produce and its arrival in the home of the consumer. In many cases these profits are shown to be out of proportion for the service rendered.

FARMER AROUSED

LOW PRICE OF PRODUCTS IS CAUSING MANY PROTESTS
FROM LAND WORKERS

Populism arose in the west about thirty years ago because of the low price of farm products, the prevalence of mortgages and a belief, whether well-founded or otherwise, that the farmer was not getting a square deal. The mortgage is far less common now than then but the other conditions at present are about the same and the protest against the situation that now is heard reminds much of Populist days. The untoward farm condition is not confined to the west, but that section being more exclusively agricultural the resentment is voiced in greater volume. The price decline is the basis of the complaint and western senators and representatives are so well aware of the feeling that they without regard to party are busily at work trying to devise some means of relief.

It is not astonishing that a farmer who raises wheat at a cost of $2 a bushel should feel that he has a grievance when he finds that he can sell his crop only at a price that means a heavy loss. He would have no such well-founded cause for complaint did he find that what he has to buy had declined in price in the same proportion, but right there is where his wrong lies. His products have dropped pretty nearly to a pre-war basis, but what he has to buy is as a general rule at war figures. The farmer is angered still more when he discovers that his loss has benefited the ultimate consumer little and that the latter esteems the farmer a profiteer.

The question of what can be done to render the situation less tense is the big problem before congress. Revival of the war finance corporation, extension of credits to Germany in order to afford a market for our surplus products and placing a tariff on Canadian wheat have been suggested. The credit situation is the largest factor in the problem, though there is no intention of making an effort to have the government offer financial aid since that is realized as impossible. The farmers do not object to the deflation, realizing that we must eventually get down from the plane of high prices, but they do raise protest against being the only element deflated and in this they seem to have a good case. It is a business proposition that faces agriculture, the task of making production pay its own cost.

The problem affects those not engaged in agriculture as well. It is of vital ultimate concern to the consumer. Production that fails to realize cost will soon cease to be production at all. The farmer will not produce unless it pays and the consumer will eventually cease to eat unless somebody produces. It is a plain proposition. The remedy lies in affording the farmer a price that will pay. This can be accomplished in two ways: by raising the present prices of farm products or by lowering the price of other products to the present farm price plane. How to do one or the other is the problem.

It is admitted, of course, that few farmers can afford to take the time required to dispose of their stocks direct to consumers, so they prefer to sell to the jobber who visits the farm and buys an entire crop, or to the grocer, who becomes the distributor to the public.

The complaint of both farmers and consumers is that the middlemen are taking more than a fair profit in the transaction, and there is an insistent demand that brokers and others who do not actually handle the farm products be eliminated from any participation in the business.

The senate and house have passed a measure that would permit farmers to sell under the co-operative plan without incurring the penalties of the Sherman anti-trust law, and it is likely that it will soon become a law. Growers could market their produce in bulk through a farm agency and sell to grocers direct, or to consumers in quantity.

If such a plan should succeed in eliminating interests which are taking unearned profits from the distribution of foodstuffs it will have served well both the grower and consumer, who are equal sufferers under the present system of moving food from the producer to the home table.

MORE HIGHWAYS TO BE BUILT IN 1921

OVER BILLION DOLLARS FOR BUILDING AND MAINTAINING ROADS DURING YEAR

More than a billion dollars is now available for road building and maintenance in the United States, of which approximately $550,000,000 will probably be expended during 1921, according to figures compiled by the American Automobile association good roads board.

State bonds for highway improvement aggregating $532,800,000 have been authorized during the past three years. During 1918, state bonds amounting to $60,000,000 were authorized in Illinois and $50,000,000 in Pennsylvania. The following issues were authorized during 1919:

California	$ 40,000,000
Oregon	12,500,000
Nevada	1,000,000
South Dakota	4,500,000
Wyoming	2,800,000
Maine	10,000,000
Michigan	50,000,000
Utah	4,000,000

$124,800,000

Owing to the shortage and high price of labor and materials, to the lack of open top equipment on the railroads, and to the condition of the bond market, very little of this money as yet has been expended.

During 1920 a total of $309,000,000 of state highway bonds have been voted.

Kansas Removes Difficulty

The constitution of Kansas prohibited the state from engaging in internal improvements, but this difficulty was removed by the referendum at the recent election. That state may now pay one-fourth of the cost of not to exceed 100 miles of road in each county and not to exceed $10,000 per mile.

The amount of bonds authorized in the state of Virginia was not fixed in the referendum measure, but the legislature may under the law vote bonds to the extent of approximately $50,000,000.

A proposal was approved in California increasing the interest on the state highway bonds from 4 1/2 to not to exceed 6 per cent, which will permit the state to dispose of the $40,000,000 in bonds authorized in 1919.

The $29,000,000 bonds authorized in New Jersey are for the purpose of paying the state's share of the cost of a vehicular tunnel under the Hudson river.

Officials of the Bureau of Public roads estimate that there is still available approximately $160,000,000 of Federal Aid funds for allocation to projects in the various states.

OTHER EXTREME IS INJURIOUS

The people of the United States must bear a large share of the blame for what came to be known as pyramiding of prices, which sent the cost of living to a point entirely out of proportion to the law of supply and demand. The excesses in buying were called "an orgy of spending."

Another thing, perhaps even as injurious in its effect as the recklessness with which so many persons spent their money after the armistice lifted the strain of war, is seen in the disposition of the people to engage in what is virtually a buyers' strike.

with what they believed would meet the demands of trade find that many lines of goods are not selling, especially seasonable articles, and they are forced to make large reductions in order to save as much as possible from their investments. It should not be forgotten that practically all the present stocks of clothing, footwear and other essential commodities have been created under the highest costs ever known, and these stocks were manufactured, of necessity, some months before the time they were expected to be used.

The public feels that it has a right to buy the necessities of life at lower prices, but nothing is to be gained ultimately if losses are imposed upon dealers—perhaps ruin to many—by the tendency of the public to fly from an extreme of reckless spending to one of refusal to buy. The public cannot shift the blame for high prices from itself by attempting to place it on the dealers.

Congress should give industry and business whatever relief possible from the burdens placed upon them by the war, in order that they in turn may be able to render a service to the public through lower prices. Playing fast and loose with business, as the public is inclined to do, will work great injury to tradesmen and eventually become harmful to the buyers themselves, through the creation of uncertainty in the relations between seller and consumer.

INDIANA YOUTHS USE ROUGE
BLUFFTON, Ind.—"Lip-stick" or rouge, sir?"

This question is being asked by Bluffton barbers of their younger customers.

Many young men are adopting the "art" of their fair sisters and are turning to camouflage to better their personal appearance. The practice is not confined to the city youth; one barber asserted that most of the "paintings" were on customers having residence in the country. Within one hour, a three-chair shop had six applications for rouge by young men from the farms of high school age.

A lot of folks do not live up to the belief that to be respected it is necessary to be respectable.

The state militia of Pennsylvania, when fully organized, will have close to 750 pieces of motor equipment.

IT'S YOURS AND ALL SAFE

You are worth $27,350,000 in your own right. The millions are in gold, the hundred thousands in silver. It is in the safest place in the world—so safe, alas, that not even you can probably ever obtain it. But it is yours, nevertheless, your heritage from all time, and a part of your immutable birthright.

Yet do not boast. You are still no better off than your neighbors. Each one of them, man, woman and child, has a like amount in keeping. The treasure house is in the sea, that old mother of mystery. The gold and silver held in suspension in its waters would provide $27,000,000 in gold for every human inhabitant of the earth, and $350,000 in silver.

This estimate is made by a man of science, Prof. A. Berget of France. He has some other interesting things to disclose, as well. The salt in the sea, for instance, if spread out evenly over the entire surface of the globe, would cover it 150 feet deep. Thus all buildings under 15 stories high would be buried. The continent of Europe could be made three times over out of salt, with its Balkan, Pyrenees and Alps mountain ranges.

Most of us will fear that salt would have lost its savor in such a deluge. The gold and silver, too, wouldn't be of much avail if everyone were equally supplied. But if the thought of your share of the riches which time has stored in the high seas, the aquatic No Man's region, gives you joy, then indulge it to the full. But don't let the wealth go to your head. And remember that although the riches of the sea may never be yours, the fertile, smiling land may still be forced to yield its faithful bounty to your industry.

Using Tug-Of-WarFor years the tug-of-war has been the means of settling disputes among
naval men both ashore and afloat.
For a first-class arbiter it cannot be beaten.Sailors of the navy are divided in-
to two watches, port and starboard.
In order to simplify details, watches
alternate when going on liberty. It occasionally happens that a ship remains only a few days in a port and
"all hands" desire to make the first liberty. Tegs from the watches are selected for the tug-of-war and the men get out on the lines and cheer
their representatives to victory. The victorious team is given the privilege
of making the first liberty together with other members of the watch.In the same manner the tug-of-war
is utilized at the training station.
The photograph above graphically
illustrates the earnestness of the men composing the team. Their faces are set and grim and they are putting every ounce of effort in the task before them. The majority of the men in the photograph have completed their training period and are ready to be sent to sea. It is certain that many of them will be instrumental in bringing first liberty
to the watch they are members of
aboard ship.COURT CHINASEVERAL POWERS SEEKING TO WIN FAVOR OF ORIENT, IS CLAIM OF Y. M. C. A. MANPASADENA—"China is like a young excited, emotional girl. And she is being courted by several suitors, red bolshevism, by the Japanese
dancer and by Christianity," declared Arthur Rugh in a speech at a local hotel in this city.Rugh is the head of the Y. M. C. A.
work in China, being actively engaged in this work among the students of this country for eighteen years. He is now in the United States again on a furlough. "China is in bad condition. It is rotten. The outlook there is dark as night. And there are three conditions there that are of the widest political importance. First, Japan wants China;
second, the 'holdover' members
of the old regime, those of the old party in China, are selling out to Japan. The third element that has a hold on the future of the nation is
the young party of loyal men and women who are against the Japanese.
It is this party that will be the sa-
viors of the nation."Eventually," said Rugh, "America, China and Russia will be the ruling nations of the world. And the future of America depends entirely on what this country is willing to do for the other two."China is a country that has broken loose from all its past. It has torn away from old customs, old religion and old politics. It is soon to make a choice of all those things.POEM IS UNIQUEC. E. BATTEY OF GLENDALE HAS UNUSUAL VERSES APPEARING
IN TRUE STORY MAGAZINEReminiscent of the verse of Edgar Allen Poe is the beautiful poem by a Glendale resident, C. E. Battey, 430 West Elk avenue, which appeared in last month's issue of the True Story Magazine.It is the dictum of the majority of the literary critics that the poet must be a prophet, a message bearer or a voice of the race. Neither Poe's verse nor Mr. Battey's can measure up to this requirement. But Poe's own theory was that poetry must be concerned with itself, not with life
or truth or nature, but with beauty
alone; to him poetry was "the rhythmical creation of beauty."Few verse writers, it must be admitted, have been more barren of any "message," more unequal to any "criticism of life," than Poe was, and yet, Frederick W. H. Myers says,
"Nevertheless, a dozen solid poets of the Southey type would to my mind
be well bartered for those few lines
of Poe's which after the sternest sifting must needs remain."Like Poe's verse, this poem of Mr.
Battey's bears no "message"; it is
but "the rhythmic creation of beauty"
—a poem unique and striking, which comes home to us poignantly quivering with a sense of wild, irreparable ill, so skillfully embodied in melodious, lyric verse of strange,
haunting woe that it touches the heart with a poignancy that is a delight as well as a pain.A carping critic might find fault
with the import of one line—and one line only; and even that line is the "rhythmical creation of beauty" and conveys as clear an idea as many
lines in Poe—those of "Ukulele,"
for example.

On Molokai

Dame Nature paints with lavish
brush
The earth, the sea and sky,
And in the eventide's soft hush
The night winds gently sigh.There silvery beaches thread
the shore,
And reach to kiss the breakers'
roar.

On Molokai

What though the cooling breezes
sweep,
And soft the shadows lie?
What though the surges foam and
leapTo kiss the sands and die?
This heaven is smirched by devil's hand,
For lepers rule the outcast land
On Molokai.Misshapen fists, by pain grown bold,
Are clenched to heaven on high;
With prayer and curse, like Job of
old,They rave, but dare not die.
Guiltless of sin, yet God-forgot, Shunned by mankind, alive they
rot.

On Molokai

Mr. Battey is an old time printer
and newspaperman, whose health
necessitated his forsaking his profession for a time. He came to Glendale and operated a poultry ranch for a while, in order to get the advantage of out-of-door life. Later he conducted a poultry and pet stock exchange, which he recently sold.A short story by Mr. Battey appears in the same number of the True Story magazine.Every nation has some national characteristic and as China has thrown off her old one she is soon
to assume a new one.
"America's greatest opportunity for good in the world is right at this time. In China this country can reap a great harvest. It can reap a great ethical harvest by helping in the religious work now being carried out in this vast chaotic country," said Rugh.The state law of Washington forbids motors a greater rate of speed
than four miles an hour at street
crossings "when any person is thereon."

Chief Dada—Have You Heard of Him as Yet?BERLIN.—Have you heard of the Chief Dada?He is not the head of the biggest family in Germany, but the chieftain
of a German section of an alleged artistic clique, the members of which call themselves Dadaists.Precisely what Dadaism is it would be difficult to say, especially through a telegraph wire. It out-jazzes jazz;
it has left cubism miles behind. Competent critics say that it is anarchy
applied to art.Dadaist dancing is the dizziest delirium; Dadaist poetry looks like printer's pie; but Dadaist pictures are quite beyond description.No one can ever tell what a Dadaist picture is about. If he could then it would not be Dadaism, but some lower form of art, and that is just what has caused trouble here.During the summer the Chief Dada
and his friends held an exhibition of pictures. One of these pictures attracted the attention of a member of the Reichswehr, or national army. He said it was an insult."No," some one nearby suggested,
"it's a fish."The Reichswehrman refused to believe it; the thing was a libel on the corps to which he belonged. So he set the law in motion and the Chief
attorney, as he could not see the fish
either, was persuaded that it was an insult.

So the chief Dada and his friends

soon will appear in court to answer
the serious charge of having libeled
the Reichswehr.The worst of it is that many of the best people in Berlin have been forced to take up the study of Dada-
ism for the purpose of becoming witnesses at the trial. Among them are President Ebert, Prime Minister Feil-renbach and Herr Scholz, minister of national economy. The minister of culture has emphatically denied it, it is reported, that Dadaism comes within the jurisdiction of his department.ORGY OF ECONOMIZING?From the signing of the armistice until the early months of 1920 the American people generally were engaged in what the more flint-hearted
critics styled an orgy of extravagance.
Money flowed like water; the demand for luxuries could not be supplied; prices of necessities went sky high.This summer brought a sobering of judgment and a cessation of spending. Demand fell off, not only for unnecessaries, but for essentials that had been prodigally wasted. Stocks piled up. In many lines production was restricted. Manufacturers and wholesalers made great gashes in prices. Retailers have begun to respond, and at last the consumer is beginning to get the benefit of the reaction from inflation. Both consumers, inflation and reaction, were made possible, to a large extent, bythe average man's manipulation of private purse strings.Are we now to have an orgy of economizing? Is the public to swing pendulum-like, from one extreme to the other? It is to be hoped not,
for the effect of extreme saving is little less deplorable than that of extreme spending. Unless money is spent in sufficient quantities to keep regularly employed the workers in the necessary industries there can be no real thrift anywhere.Rhode Island, despite the fact it is the smallest state in the Union,
boasts of 44,000 owners of motor cars.Blessed is the man who would rather have money in the bank than follow the lead of his wealthy friends.SHOES!!We Repair them. Better work for
